ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Parents of homeschooled students ages 6-16 are required to file a notarized Affidavit of Intent to Homeschool with the County School Superintendent within 30 days of starting to homeschool. This is filed one time, not annually. You can begin homeschooling younger than age 6 without a problem, simply wait until your child turns 6 to file the affidavit.

The affidavit is available for download from the AFHE website AFHE.ORG/AZ-LAW-AND-AFFIDAVIT. The affidavit must include the child's name, date of birth, current address, and name, telephone, and address of parent or legal guardian. Some counties have their own affidavit that may request additional information not required by law. AFHE does not recommend providing more information than is required by law. Do not file an affidavit for children under age 6 or over age 16 as these students fall outside of compulsory attendance ages. County Superintendents will only accept affidavits for homeschooled students ages 6 to 16.

GETTING THE AFFIDAVIT NOTARIZED

Wait to sign the affidavit until you are in the presence of a Notary Public. Bring your photo I.D. Your local bank is a common place to find a notary. Or the County School Superintendent's office should have a Notary Public on staff that can assist you if you go in person.

MAKE A COPY FOR YOUR RECORDS

Once you get the affidavit notarized, make a copy for yourself and store it in a safe place. Submit the original affidavit to the County School Superintendent's office.

OPTION 1: MAIL THE AFFIDAVIT

You can mail the notarized affidavit to the County along with your child's certified birth certificate. County staff will make a copy of the birth certificate for their records and mail the original back to you.

OPTION 2: HAND DELIVER THE AFFIDAVIT

If you do not wish to mail the affidavit and your child's birth certificate to the county, you may hand deliver the documents and wait while the clerk makes a copy of the birth certificate for their file and returns the original to you at that time. Many counties can even notarize the affidavit for you and give you a copy.

WHEN NOT TO FILE AN AFFIDAVIT

If your child is enrolled in Arizona Online Instruction (public or charter school at home programs), a private school, or has an Empowerment Scholarship Account (ESA), you will not file an Affidavit of Intent to Homeschool.

PROOF OF BIRTH

Proof of birth must be submitted with the notarized affidavit. The most common document is a birth certificate. This must be a certified copy (not a photocopy). Please refer to ARS §15-828 for other acceptable proofs of birth if a birth certificate is not available. The original birth certificate will be returned to you after the County has made a copy for their records.

MOVING TO A DIFFERENT AZ COUNTY

If you move from one Arizona county to another, you will need to file a new affidavit and provide proof of birth to the county you are moving to. Also, notify the previous county that you have moved.

TERMINATION OF HOMESCHOOLING

If you enroll your child in a public school, charter school, Arizona Online Instruction, or private school (including hybrid private schools), or sign an Empowerment Scholarship Account (ESA), or move out of state, notify the county within 30 days of termination of homeschooling.

REVIEW THE LAW

All parents should review Arizona state statutes regarding homeschooling to become familiar with what is required and what protections the law provides.
